

AFORE Solutions achieves ISO 9001:2000 certification.

Ottawa, Ontario, Canada April 18 2007 – AFORE Solutions, a leading design services company, announced today that it has achieved ISO 9001:2000 certification. The certification represents a milestone in the company's dedication to quality processes and reflects its commitment to continued excellence in delivering complex R&D Design and Solutions to its customers.

"As this certification attests, AFORE is committed to continually improve its processes to deliver outstanding services that meet and in many cases exceed our customer's requirements." said Paul Kite, Vice President Business Development, AFORE Solutions. "AFORE was founded on a philosophy that only the highest quality of work would be acceptable to our clients who trust us to help them develop their products. The ISO 9001:2000 certification confirms that the core principles embraced during the company's inception – customer focus, supplier and partner relationships, and continual improvement – remain solidly embedded in the company culture today."
